Dawlish Town Centre and the Wider Parish Regeneration Study

Questionnaire

Dawlish Town Council and its partners have appointed LHC Urbanism to undertake a Regeneration Study for Dawlish Town Centre and the Wider Parish.

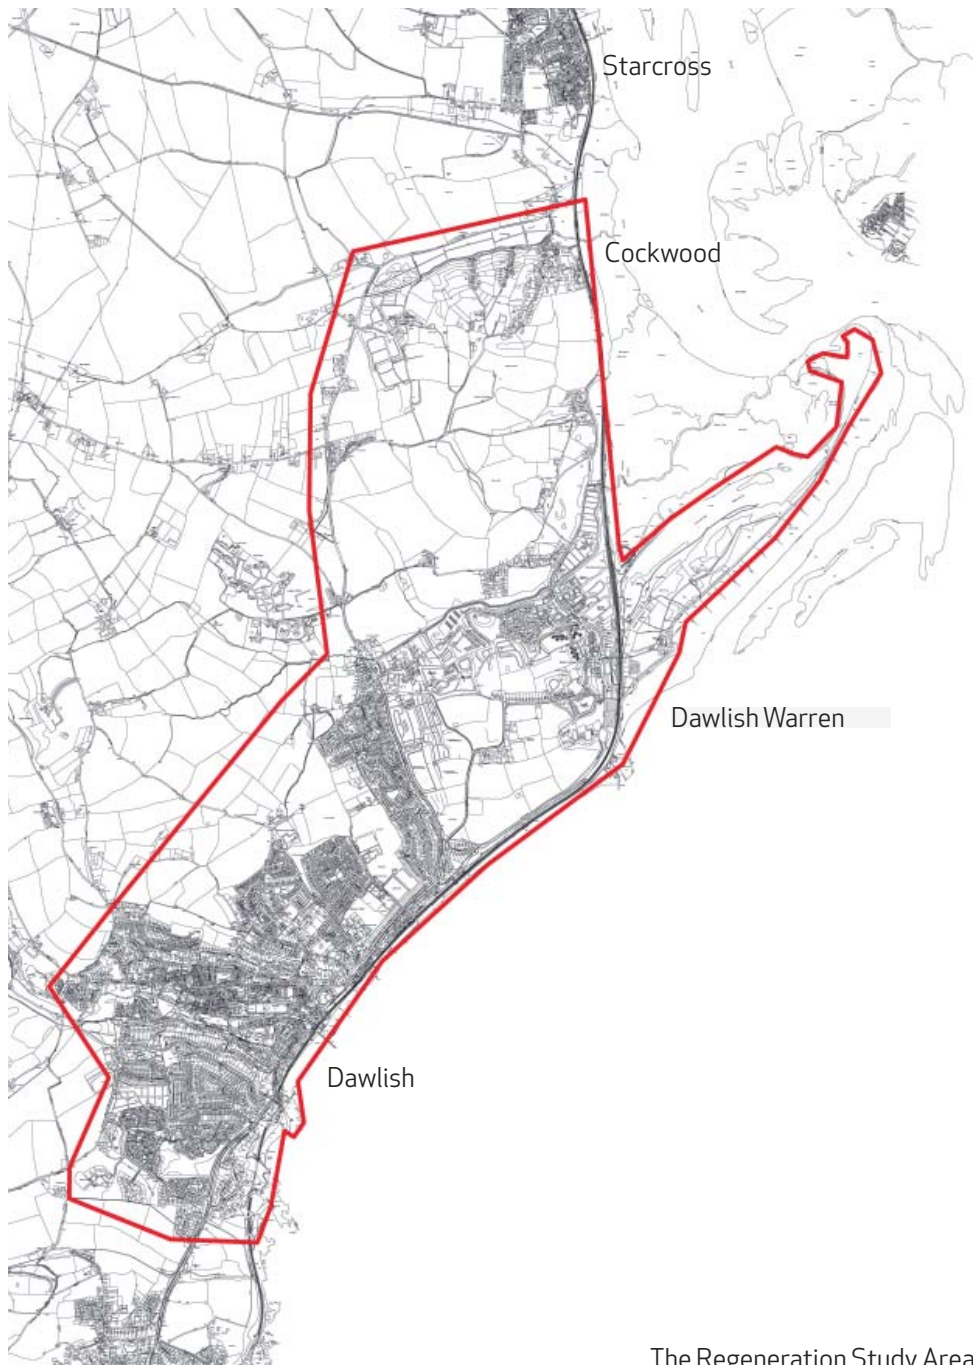

The Study will provide a framework for change and will set out a vision for the future of the area – this will include the identification of deliverable regeneration projects for the short, medium and long term.

Understanding regeneration opportunities for the Wider Parish as well as those within Dawlish Town Centre will be an important part of the work and will set this study apart from previous studies. The roles and potential of important satellite communities such as Cockwood, Cofton, Dawlish Warren and Holcombe and their relationship to Dawlish will be examined.

Identifying projects which can be delivered immediately in order to kick start regeneration for the area and its communities will be a key objective. Projects will be set within a wider strategic context which builds upon previous work and previous engagement with stakeholders and the community.

An important aspect of our approach is to understand, reflect and support positive characteristics of what is already happening in the local communities as a foundation for change.
